LOGLINE

Short animated comedy infused with dark humor highlighting the everyday flaws of living in human society. Unleash your darkest desires in a world where annoying habits meet their fatal demise.

SYNOPSIS

Dark comedy about something we all do - we hate other people for trivial reasons. Life is hard even without having to tolerate other people's annoying habits. The problem is you can't kill somebody just because they chew too loudly. But in this animated world, you can make all your dark visions of fatal revenge a reality.

DIRECTOR'S STATEMENT

The idea for this film crystallized from years of experiences and encounters with the annoying humankind. Right after reminding you of what bothers you about people, it showcases all the things you can't do to them in reality. I see this film as a form of therapy, allowing me to creatively explore these unpleasant emotions and not keep them bottled up inside. Instead of silently hating each other, we can laugh and perhaps reflect on how loudly we are munching our popcorn.

ABOUT THE DIRECTOR

An illustrator, animator, storyboard artist, and film director. She finished her master's studies in animation at FAMU Prague with the film Humanity. Her silhouette stop-motion bachelor film Bloody Fairy Tales was screened in more than 20 countries, and selected to festivals such as KVIFF, Milano Film Festival, Interfilm, and Anima Brussels.
